

Ghaith Jenhani

Every frame, intentional.

The reel, scene by scene

This book takes the 2025 logo and builds the brand it was missing: a strategy, a voice, a visual system and the rules that keep it consistent. The page numbers are timecodes. The middle pair of digits is the chapter.

01 · MARKET & COMPETITION

Starting point 01:02
Market overview 01:03
Competitors 01:04
Positioning, gaps, opportunities 01:05

02 · AUDIENCE

Primary & secondary 02:01
Profile & buying drivers 02:02

03 · BRAND STRATEGY

Purpose, vision, mission 03:01
Values & belief 03:02
Positioning & value 03:03
Personality & promise 03:04
Messaging pillars 03:05

04 · VERBAL IDENTITY

Tone & principles 04:01
Messages & vocabulary 04:02
Messaging in use 04:03

05 · VISUAL IDENTITY

Creative direction 05:01
Visual territory 05:02
Logo system 05:03
Colour 05:05
Typography 05:06
Graphic language 05:07
Imagery & elements 05:08

06 · GUIDELINES & APPLICATIONS

Logo usage 06:01
Colour, type, layout 06:03
Applications 06:05
Deliverables 06:11

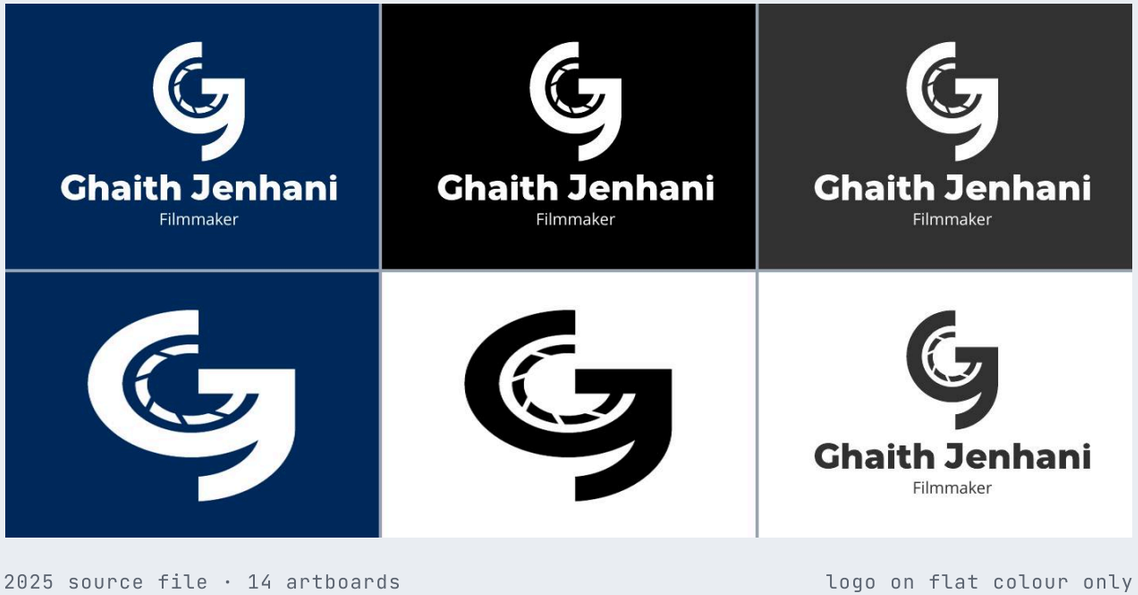

01

Market & competition

The landscape the brand has to stand out in.

A strong mark with no system around it

The 2025 logo already works. The G is made of a C and a lowercase g, and an aperture with six blades sits inside the bowl. It is distinctive, it reads well small, and it tells you the profession straight away. What it lacked was everything around it. There was no strategy, no voice, no colour logic beyond one navy, and no rules. Every touchpoint had to be designed from zero, so the result looked inconsistent.

2025 source file · 14 artboards

logo on flat colour only

KEPT

The symbol and wordmark geometry, redrawn from the original vectors. The Blue Hour navy (#002B5C). The stacked lockup.

ADDED

A horizontal lockup, an avatar, a second accent colour, a type system, a graphic language taken from cinema tools, guidelines and applications.

WORKING ASSUMPTIONS TO CONFIRM

This book assumes Ghaith works from Tunisia as a director and director of photography. It assumes his main work is brand films, commercials, documentaries and music videos, and that he also takes international service work. The market and audience sections are qualitative strategy based on those assumptions. Validate competitor names, prices and audience details with 5–8 client interviews before using them to make investment decisions.

Video is now the default, and craft is becoming scarce

Every business in Tunisia and the wider region now needs moving images. Most of it is produced quickly and for one feed, and is forgotten within a day. That leaves room for a filmmaker who makes work people remember.

DEMAND SHIFT

Social-first, vertical, always on

Brands have moved budget from occasional TV spots to a steady stream of Reels, TikTok and YouTube content. Volume went up and per-piece budgets came down, and that split the market in two. There is cheap, fast content, and there are a few hero films a year that have to carry the brand.

SUPPLY SHIFT

Gear is cheap, taste is not

Mirrorless cinema cameras, gimbals and drones are now affordable for anyone, so the number of "videographers" has grown fast. Equipment no longer sets anyone apart. Direction, lighting, story, sound and grading do.

LOCAL STRENGTH

A country that's on screen

Tunisia has a long film culture. It runs the Journées Cinématographiques de Carthage, one of Africa's oldest film festivals, and its deserts, coast and medinas have drawn international productions for decades. Locations, crews and a tradition of cinema are real assets.

REGIONAL PULL

MENA & Europe as one market

Gulf, North African and European clients increasingly buy remote or travelling production. A Tunis-based filmmaker who works in French, Arabic and English and offers competitive rates can sell well beyond the local market.

DISRUPTORS

AI and in-house teams

Generative video and in-house content teams will take over generic, low-stakes footage. Work that depends on real people, real places and real emotion becomes worth more as a result.

IMPLICATION

Compete on intention, not on price

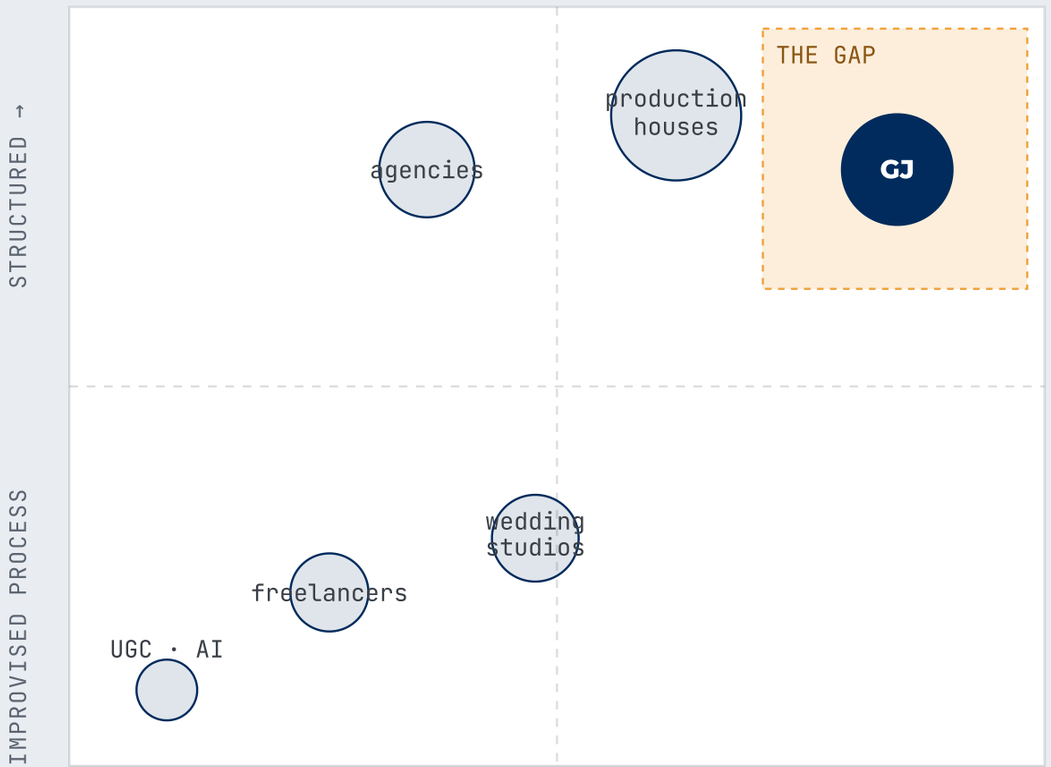

The middle of the market is crowded and losing value. The brand should sit clearly above it, as director-led craft, while staying as quick and easy to deal with as a freelancer.

Who else the client is talking to Competitors are grouped by type rather than named. Fill in 2–3 real names per row from your own market when you review this.

TYPE	COMPETITOR ARCHETYPE	STRENGTH	WEAKNESS	HOW GHAITH WINS
Direct	Established production houses (TV commercials, institutional films)	Crews, equipment, track record, broadcaster relationships	Expensive, slow, layered, director rarely in the room with the client	Same cinematic standard, one creative lead from the first brief to the final grade, faster turnaround
Direct	Freelance videographers (Instagram-led one-person operations)	Cheap, available, quick, comfortable with social formats	Same look for every client, weak story and sound, no process, unreliable	A clear process, a story-first approach, and craft that shows in the first 3 seconds
Direct	Event & wedding studios	High volume, packaged pricing, emotional storytelling	Template edits, trend-chasing, rarely trusted with brand work	Brand and documentary credibility, and an authored rather than templated look
Direct	Agencies with in-house video	Hold the client relationship and strategy	Video is one service among many and often outsourced anyway	Become the agencies' preferred director/DP partner instead of competing with them
Indirect	In-house phone content & UGC creators	Authentic, near-free, high volume	No production value, inconsistent brand	Make the hero films that their volume content refers back to
Indirect	AI video & stock footage	Instant, cheap, endlessly variable	Generic, no real people or places, trust problems	Real locations, real faces, real emotion that can't be generated
Indirect	Photographers adding video	Existing client base and visual taste	Motion, sound and editing are secondary skills	Moving image is the core craft, not an add-on

The empty quadrant: story-led and easy to work with

Circle size ≈ typical project budget. Qualitative map, not survey data.

STRATEGIC GAPS

- Authorship at freelance speed. Production houses have craft but come with layers. Freelancers are fast but have no point of view. Nobody owns both.
- Process people can see. Few local filmmakers show clients a clear path from brief to treatment to shoot to delivery, so buying film feels risky.
- A recognisable look. Most local work follows trends and is hard to tell apart. Few filmmakers have a signature colour and light.
- Trilingual storytelling. Work that sounds natural in Arabic, French and English is rare, and regional brands need it.

OPPORTUNITIES

- Brand films for hospitality, tourism and F&B. Tunisian hotels, restaurants and destinations sell atmosphere, and atmosphere is what Ghaith films.
- Agency partner programme. Offer agencies a fixed-rate director/DP package with their logo on the deliverables.
- Service productions. Offer local DP and production support to foreign crews filming in Tunisia.
- Hero film plus cut-down kit. One film delivered with 6–10 social cut-downs, so craft also covers the volume work.
- Personal work as marketing. Short documentaries for festivals and YouTube build authority that ads can't.

02

Audience

The people who commission films, and what they need to feel safe saying yes.

Two buyers, one need: to look good to the people they answer to

PRIMARY · BRAND DECISION-MAKERS

The Marketing Lead

Marketing managers, brand managers and founders at mid-size Tunisian and MENA companies, mainly hospitality, food & beverage, fashion, tourism, real estate and tech start-ups. They commission 2–6 hero films a year and a steady stream of social content.

"I need something that makes us look like the brand we're trying to become, and I need it on time."

28–45 | TUNIS · SOUSSE · SFAX · GULF | FR / AR / EN | INSTAGRAM · LINKEDIN

PRIMARY · AGENCY PARTNERS

The Agency Creative Director

Creative and account directors at communication agencies who sell the idea and then need someone they trust to shoot it. They bring repeat volume and their clients' briefs.

"I can't afford a shoot that makes me look bad in front of my client."

30–50 | AGENCIES | REPEAT WORK | REFERRALS

SECONDARY

Cultural & NGO commissioners

Festivals, foundations, international NGOs and institutions who need documentary storytelling with sensitivity and credibility.

SECONDARY

Artists & labels

Musicians and labels commissioning music videos. Budgets are smaller but the work is very visible, so it builds the portfolio.

SECONDARY

International productions

Foreign crews and producers filming in Tunisia who need a dependable local DP or second unit.

DEMOGRAPHICS

- Age 26–50, university-educated, mid to senior roles
- Urban: Greater Tunis, Sahel, Sfax. Diaspora and Gulf clients work remotely
- Work in French and Arabic, often English with international clients
- Project budgets from mid four figures to five figures (TND)

PSYCHOGRAPHICS

- Aesthetically literate: they follow international campaigns and know good from good-enough
- Ambitious for their brand and impatient with clichés
- Proud of Tunisian places and culture but don't want folklore postcards
- Risk-aware: one bad production costs them credibility inside the company

MOTIVATIONS

- Raise how the brand is seen, quickly
- Have a hero piece to show leadership, investors and partners
- Make content that performs and still looks premium
- Work with someone who makes the job easier

PAIN POINTS

- Past suppliers who missed deadlines or disappeared after the shoot
- Beautiful shots with no story, or a story with amateur visuals
- Endless revision rounds and unclear pricing
- Being shown the same look the supplier gives everyone else

NEEDS

- A clear treatment before the shoot: mood, frames, plan
- A fixed scope, a fixed price and a known number of revisions
- Final files in every format they need, from 16:9 to 9:16
- A director who listens, then has a point of view

DESIRED IDENTITY

- "The person who brought in the film everyone talks about."
- To be seen as a modern, international-level brand from here
- A tasteful decision-maker rather than someone who buys on price

BUYING CONSIDERATIONS, IN ORDER OF WEIGHT

1. Portfolio fit
"Has he done something like what I need?"

2. Trust & reliability
References, process, professionalism of the first contact

3. Creative chemistry
Does the first call produce ideas?

4. Clarity of offer
Scope, timeline, deliverables, price

5. Price vs value
Rarely the cheapest option, but easy to justify

03

Brand strategy

Why the brand exists, what it stands for and the promise it keeps.

PURPOSE · WHY WE EXIST

To give the stories, people and places of this region the cinema they deserve.

VISION · WHERE WE'RE GOING

A Tunisian filmmaker whose name brands across the Mediterranean and the Gulf trust with the films that matter most to them.

MISSION · WHAT WE DO EVERY DAY

To make films with intention, from the first conversation to the final grade, that make people feel something and remember who made them feel it.

01

Intention

Every frame, cut and sound is chosen for a reason. Nothing is filler.

02

Craft

Light, lenses, sound and grade done properly, including the parts nobody notices.

03

Honesty

True to the subject. No fake emotion and no overpromising in the brief.

04

Rooted

Shaped by Tunisian light, places and people, and made to international standards.

05

Reliability

On time, on scope, easy to work with. Craft is wasted without trust.

BRAND BELIEF · WORLDVIEW

Attention can't be bought. It's earned one honest frame at a time.

We believe people now scroll past almost everything. The work that stops them isn't the loudest. It's the most intentional, made by someone who understood the story before turning on the camera.

POSITIONING STATEMENT

For brands and agencies in Tunisia and beyond who need films that raise how they are seen, Ghaith Jenhani is the director-led filmmaker who brings cinematic intention to every frame, with the clarity and speed of working directly with the person behind the camera.

VALUE PROPOSITION

Cinema-grade films, one creative lead, no surprises.

- Functional. Concept, shoot, edit, sound and colour delivered in every format, on a fixed scope and timeline.
- Emotional. The confidence of showing a film you're proud of to your leadership and your audience.
- Self-expressive. Being the brand, or the person, with taste.

DIFFERENTIATION · REASONS TO BELIEVE

- Director and DP in one person. The person who pitches the idea is the person who lights and frames it.
- The Treatment first. Every project starts with a written and visual treatment. The client sees the film before it is shot.
- A signature look. Blue-hour and tungsten colour grading that people recognise across the portfolio.
- One shoot, every screen. Hero film plus vertical and square cut-downs as standard.
- Trilingual. Briefs, scripts and subtitles in Arabic, French and English.

ARCHETYPE

The Creator, with an Explorer's eye

The Creator (primary, about 70%) wants to make something lasting and meaningful. That covers craft, vision and control of the image. The Explorer (secondary, about 30%) brings curiosity about places and people: the desert at 5 a.m., a stranger's face, the light in a medina alley. Together they make an author who goes out and finds the story rather than staging one.

IS

Visionary · Calm · Precise · Warm · Curious · Confident

IS NEVER

Flashy · Arrogant · Trend-chasing · Vague · Salesy

BRAND PROMISE

Every frame, intentional.

Nothing in a Ghaith Jenhani film is there by accident: no shot, cut, sound or colour. Clients can hold us to that, and should.

IF THE BRAND WERE A PERSON

Arrives early to watch the light. Asks more questions than he answers in the first meeting. Speaks softly on set and everyone listens. Sends the cut a day early.

Four pillars. Every message stands on at least one.

PILLAR 1

Intention

Every choice has a reason. Talk about why a shot exists, not only how good it looks.

Proof: treatments, shot lists, behind-the-scenes explanations.

PILLAR 2

Craft

Light, lens, sound, grade. Show the expertise the client doesn't see.

Proof: before/after grades, lighting diagrams, gear and set breakdowns.

PILLAR 3

Stories from here

Tunisian places, light and people, filmed with pride and without clichés, for international audiences.

Proof: personal documentaries, location stories, festival work.

PILLAR 4

A process you can trust

Brief, Treatment, Shoot, Cut, Deliver. Clear steps, clear scope, on time.

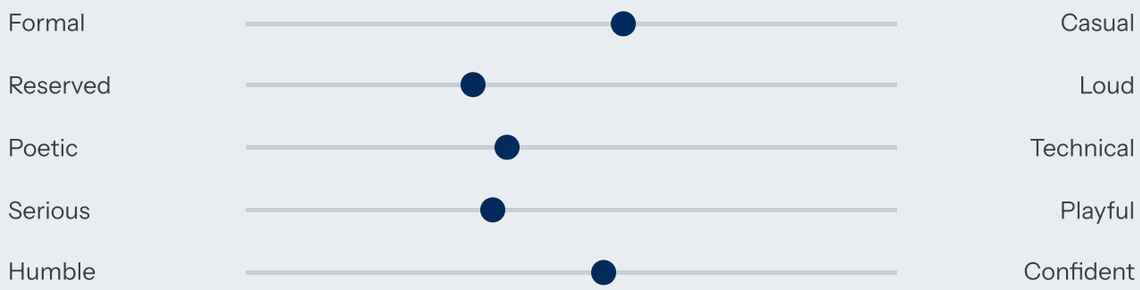

Proof: client testimonials, timelines, the deliverables kit.

Verbal identity

How the brand sounds in a pitch, a caption and a call sheet.

Speak like a director on set: calm, clear, sure

Tone attributes: Calm (no hype, no exclamation marks), Precise (concrete nouns, real numbers), Warm (talks about people before equipment), Confident (states, doesn't hedge).

1 · SHOW THE WHY

Explain the intention behind a choice. "We shot it at blue hour so the city feels like it's waiting."

2 · FEWER, BETTER WORDS

Edit copy the way you'd edit a film. If a sentence doesn't move the story, cut it.

3 · SPECIFIC BEATS SUPERLATIVE

"3 shooting days, 14 locations, 1 film" persuades more than "an amazing epic production".

4 · PEOPLE BEFORE GEAR

Mention the camera only when it matters to the result. Clients buy feeling, not sensor sizes.

5 · SAME VOICE, THREE LANGUAGES

Arabic, French and English are each written natively, never translated word for word.

6 · QUIET CONFIDENCE

Let the work speak. One strong claim backed by a frame beats five adjectives.

CORE MESSAGE

Films made with intention, from the first idea to the final frame.

TO BRANDS

"Your brand already has a story worth filming. I'll find it, frame it and deliver it on every screen your audience uses."

TO AGENCIES

"Bring me the idea. I'll protect it from treatment to grade, and make you look good in front of your client."

TO CULTURAL PARTNERS

"Real people, real places, told with care and the craft they deserve."

TO INTERNATIONAL CREWS

"Your eyes and hands in Tunisia: locations, light and a crew that speaks your language."

TAGLINE · TRILINGUAL

Every frame, intentional.

Chaque plan, une intention.

كل لقطة، مقصودة.

WORDS WE USE

frame · intention · light · story · craft · treatment · the cut · grade · place · people · blue hour · feeling · on time

WORDS WE AVOID

~~epic~~ · ~~viral~~ · ~~cinematic vibes~~ · ~~best in Tunisia~~ · ~~4K quality!!~~ · ~~cheap~~ · ~~content machine~~ · ~~trendy~~ · ~~guaranteed views~~

The same voice, everywhere it speaks

BIO · SHORT

Ghaith Jenhani is a filmmaker based in Tunis. He directs and shoots brand films, documentaries and music videos, and he wants every frame to have a reason to be there.

INSTAGRAM CAPTION

5:47 a.m., Tozeur. Forty minutes of blue hour, one take that mattered.
New brand film for [client]: full piece on YouTube.

PROPOSAL OPENING

Before we talk cameras, let's talk about what you want people to feel at 0:03, 0:30 and the last frame. The treatment below is my answer.

NOT LIKE THIS

🔥🔥 EPIC cinematic video for the BEST hotel in Tunisia!! Shot in 4K with the latest drone 🚁
DM for prices!!!

LIKE THIS

A hotel is a feeling before it's a room. We filmed the hour when the terrace goes quiet. Full film in bio.

EMAIL SIGN-OFF

Treatment attached. Cut one lands Thursday. Talk soon, Ghaith

05

Visual identity

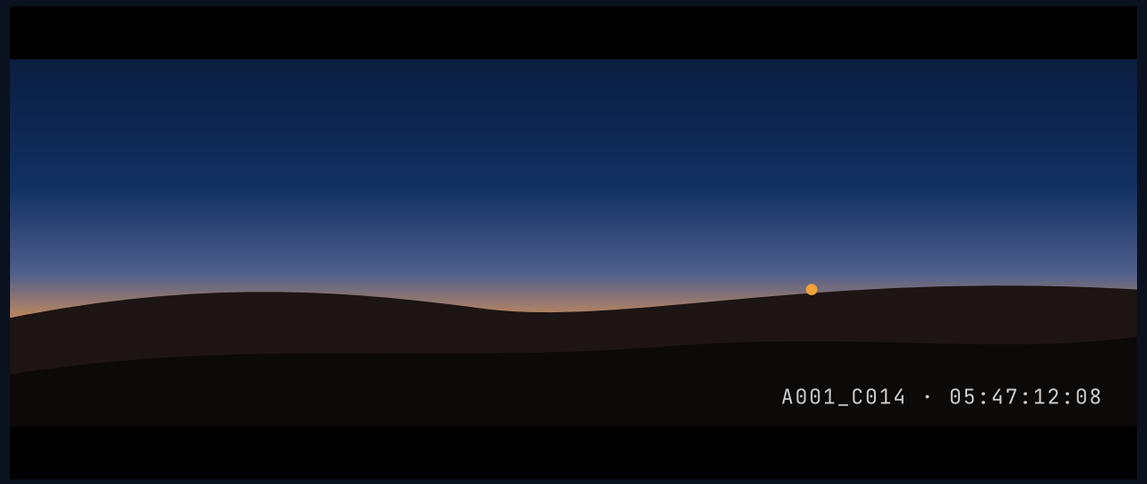

One mark, two lights, and the vocabulary of the camera.

CONCEPT

Blue hour, tungsten light

Every filmmaker balances two kinds of light. There is the cool daylight and blue hour outside, at around 5600K and above, and the warm tungsten practicals inside, at 3200K. The identity is built on that tension. Blue Hour navy is the calm and the depth. Tungsten is the spark of a human story inside it.

- Look through the camera. Graphic devices come from the viewfinder: frame lines, timecode, the slate, letterbox bars.
- Restraint. Lots of dark space, a single point of warm light. Like a well-lit frame, most of it is shadow.
- Authorship. The aperture in the mark is the brand's eye. Everything is seen through it.

Key frame · blue hour exterior, one tungsten practical 2.39:1

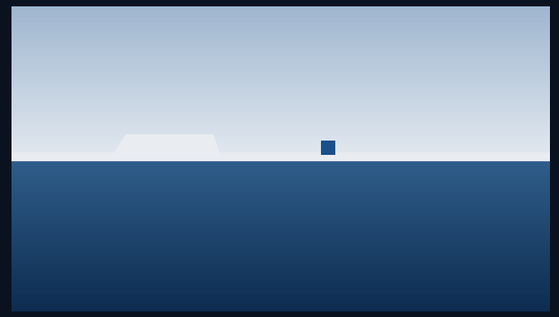

The territory

These are art-directed colour frames that show the light and palette of the brand world. Replace them with Ghaith's own stills that match each description.

Tungsten interior · café, practicals only

3200K

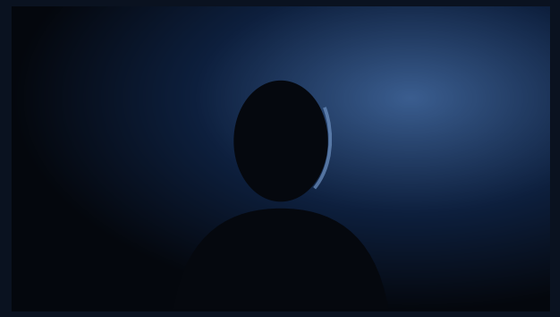

Mediterranean · Sidi Bou Said horizon

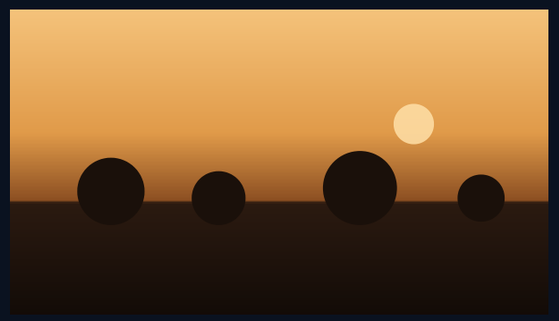

5600K

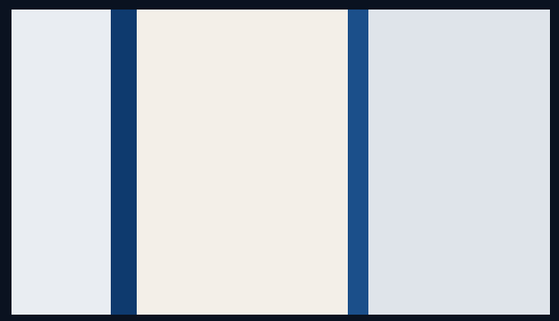

Night exterior · sodium streetlight T1.5

Portrait · cool rim, faces in shadow 85mm

Golden hour · olive grove, Sahel backlit

Medina · whitewash and blue doors, flat light graphic

One mark, five lockups

Use the primary stacked logo wherever there is room. Use the horizontal lockup for headers and narrow bands, the symbol where the brand is already known, and the avatar for profiles and app icons.

A · Primary stacked default

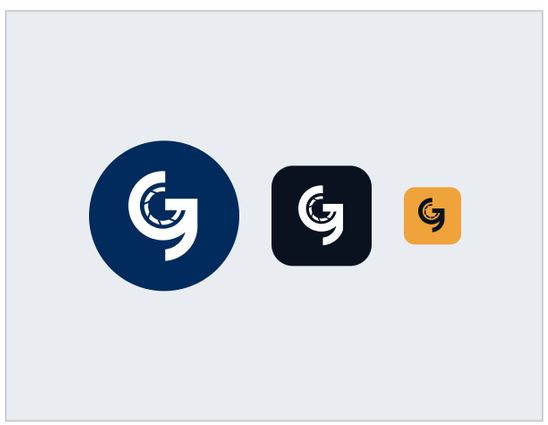

B · Horizontal headers, bands, web nav

C · Symbol / mark bugs, stamps, favicon

D · Wordmark credits, end cards

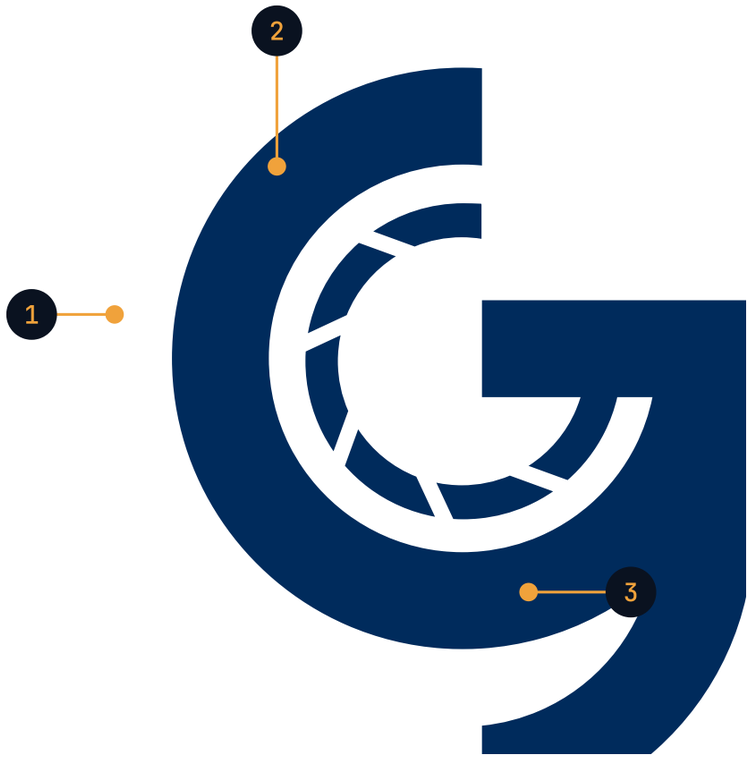

E · Avatar & app icon profiles, favicon

Accent use · Night on Tungsten

stickers, merch only

Two letters, one lens

① THE C · INITIAL OF GHAITH

A heavy outer arc that opens to the right, like a frame that hasn't closed yet.

② THE APERTURE · THE EYE

Six blade segments inside the bowl. This is the iris of a lens and the brand's point of view. Don't redraw or animate it independently except in the approved iris reveal.

③ THE G · INITIAL OF JENHANI

The crossbar and descender turn the C into a lowercase g, so the two names become one gesture.

WORDMARK

"Ghaith Jenhani" is set in Montserrat ExtraBold and outlined. The descriptor "Filmmaker" is set in Open Sans Regular and outlined. Both are vector masters: never retype them.

Two lights, four grounds

Print values are starting points. Check every Pantone reference against a physical swatch book and proof CMYK on the final paper stock.

Blue Hour

Role	Primary · logo, grounds
HEX	#002B5C
RGB	0 43 92
CMYK	100 80 25 45
Pantone	≈ 295 C

Tungsten

Role	Accent · one spark per layout
HEX	#F0A23B
RGB	240 162 59
CMYK	0 40 85 0
Pantone	≈ 1375 C

Night

Role	Deep base · cinema dark
HEX	#0A1220
RGB	10 18 32
CMYK	80 65 45 85
Pantone	≈ Black 6 C

Silver Screen

Role	Light ground
HEX	#E9EDF2
RGB	233 237 242
CMYK	6 3 2 0
Pantone	≈ 656 C

Graphite

Role	Body text on light
HEX	#3A3F47
RGB	58 63 71
CMYK	65 55 45 40
Pantone	≈ Cool Gray 11 C

Haze

Role	Secondary text on dark
HEX	#8F9BAD
RGB	143 155 173
CMYK	40 28 18 0
Pantone	≈ 7544 C

DISPLAY · MONTSERRAT EXTRABOLD / BLACK

Aa Gg

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
0123456789

This is the wordmark's own face, so headlines and the logo share the same letterforms. Use it for headlines, titles and on-screen title cards. Free on Google Fonts.

ARABIC · IBM PLEX SANS ARABIC

غيث جنحاني

كل لقطة، مقصودة. أفلام تُصنع بنيّة، من الفكرة الأولى إلى اللقطة الأخيرة.

Arabic companion for subtitles, captions and bilingual documents. Match the weight to the Latin it sits next to.

TEXT · INSTRUMENT SANS

Aa Gg

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz 0123456789

A contemporary, slightly condensed grotesque for body copy, proposals and websites. It replaces the 2025 Open Sans for running text, while Open Sans stays in the logo descriptor. Free on Google Fonts.

UTILITY · JETBRAINS MONO

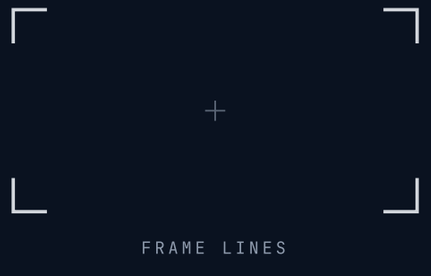

01:24

SCENE 04 · TAKE 03 · ROLL A001
TC 05:47:12:08 · 2.39:1 · T2.8

The camera's own voice, used for timecodes, labels, captions, slate data and technical specs. Always uppercase with tracking, or numerals only.

Seen through the viewfinder

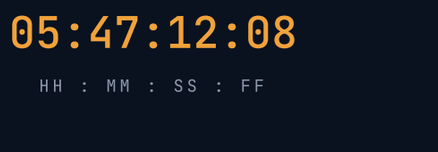

Five devices, all taken from the tools of cinema. Use one or two per layout, never all five.

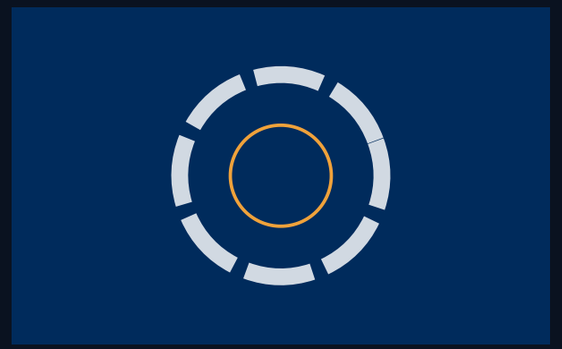

01 · Frame corners crop & focus attention

02 · Letterbox the anamorphic band

03 · Timecode numbering, dates, captions

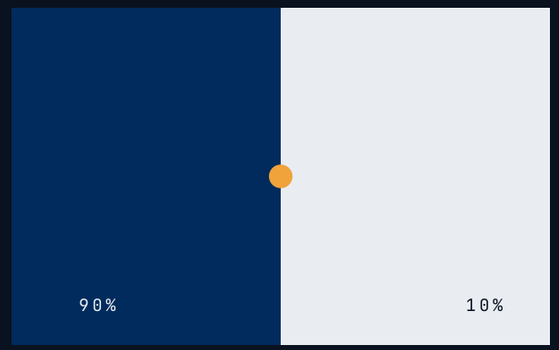

04 · Aperture ring

from the mark's six blades

05 · Slate grid data, specs, credits

Rule · one spark

Tungsten only once per layout

Shadow first, then one source of light

LIGHT

Motivated, directional, often a single source. Blue hour and practicals. Avoid flat midday light unless it's a deliberate graphic choice.

GRADE

Cool shadows toward Blue Hour, warm highlights toward Tungsten. Skin stays natural. Blacks are rich but never crushed.

COMPOSITION

Generous negative space and off-centre subjects, so headlines have room. Wide establishing frames alternate with tight details.

SUBJECTS

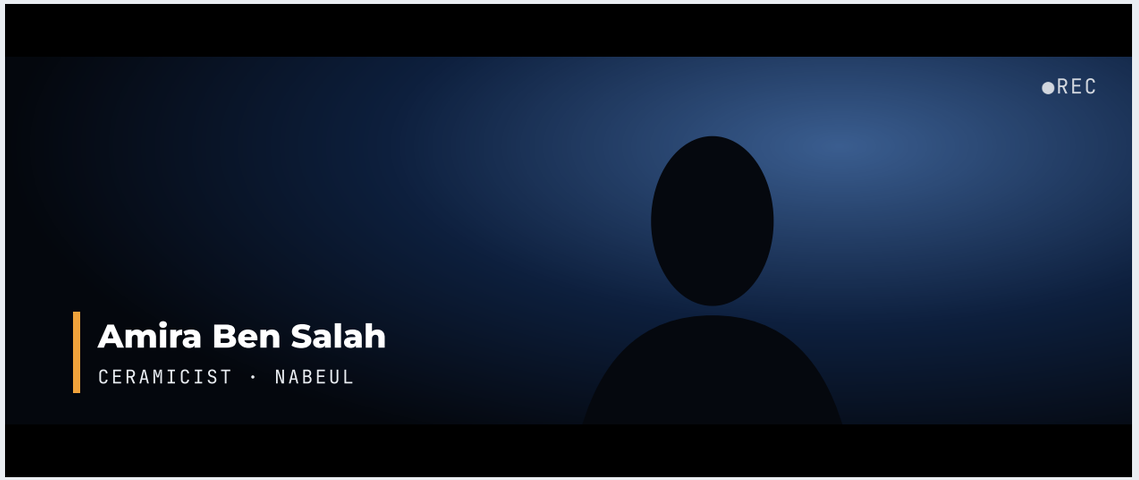

Real people at work, hands, faces in profile and Tunisian places beyond the postcard. Never staged stock smiles.

DO

Grain, flares from real sources, silhouettes, rack focus, 2.39:1 crops for hero stills.

DON'T

Heavy teal-orange presets, drone-for-everything, HDR halos, stock footage, emoji overlays.

Basic element · lower third (example name) — Montserrat 800 + Mono

Basic element · title card — tracked caps, centred in letterbox

06

Guidelines & applications

The rules, and the brand at work.

Give the mark room to breathe

CLEAR SPACE

X is the height of the g's crossbar. Keep at least 1X clear on every side of any lockup. Nothing goes inside that space: no type, no edge, no frame line.

MINIMUM SIZES

LOCKUP	PRINT	SCREEN
Primary stacked	30 mm wide	140 px
Horizontal	40 mm wide	160 px
Wordmark	30 mm wide	120 px
Symbol	8 mm high	24 px · 16 px favicon

VIDEO BUG

Symbol only, white at 80% opacity, bottom right, at 6% of frame height, inside the title-safe area.

✓ Blue Hour on white

✓ White on Blue Hour

✓ White on Night

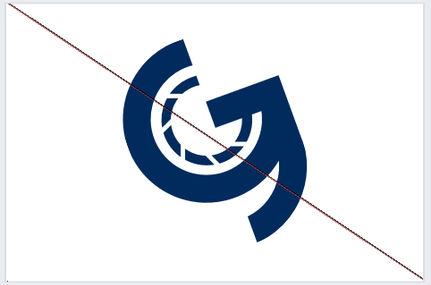

✓ White on dark footage with scrim

NEVER

Stretch or squash

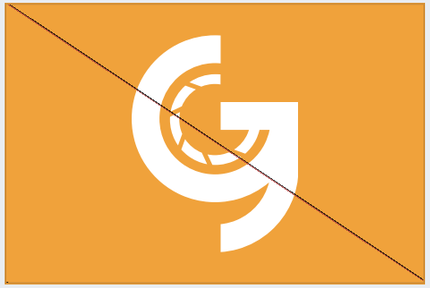

Rotate

Recolour outside the palette

Add shadows, glows or bevels

White on Tungsten (low contrast)

Also never: retype the wordmark, rearrange the lockups, outline the mark, place it on busy footage without a scrim, or use Tungsten for the full logo on light backgrounds.

Colour proportion

Accessible pairings (WCAG contrast)

TEXT ON GROUND	RATIO	USE
White on Blue Hour	14.0 : 1	✓ Any size
Silver Screen on Night	15.9 : 1	✓ Any size
Graphite on Silver Screen	9.0 : 1	✓ Body text
Tungsten on Night	8.9 : 1	✓ Labels, accents
Tungsten on Blue Hour	6.6 : 1	✓ Labels, accents
Haze on Night	6.7 : 1	✓ Secondary text
Tungsten on white	2.1 : 1	× Never for text

Type hierarchy

DISPLAY	Sable
H1 · 800	Films made with intention
H2 · 700	The treatment
BODY · 400	Before we talk cameras, let's talk about what you want people to feel at 0:03.
LABEL · MONO	SCENE 04 · TAKE 03 · 2.39:1

- Headlines: sentence case, tight leading (1.0–1.15), slight negative tracking.
- Labels: mono, uppercase, +12–14% tracking, never longer than one line.
- Body: 1.5 line height, 55–70 characters per line, left-aligned. Never justified.
- Maximum two weights per layout plus mono.

Headline on the third

LABEL · MONO · 00:06:04

12 col · margin = 1/12

GRID

12 columns. Outer margin is 1/12 of the format width. Gutters are 1/48. Content aligns to the left column edge, never centred by default.

RULE OF THIRDS

Headlines sit on the lower-third line, as they would in a camera frame. Images carry the top two thirds.

LETTERBOX BAND

Hero images are cropped to 2.39:1 inside any format. The band can bleed off the edges and type never overlaps it.

NEGATIVE SPACE

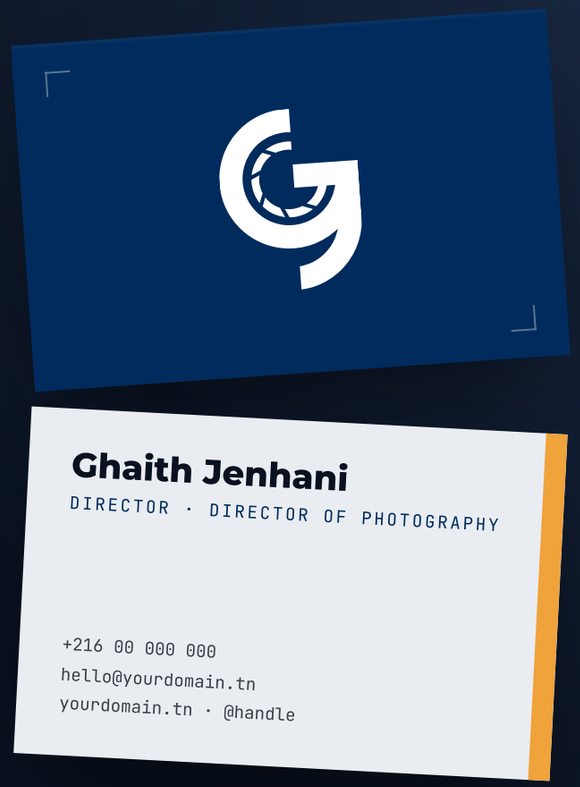

At least 40% of any layout stays empty. Dark grounds outnumber light grounds.

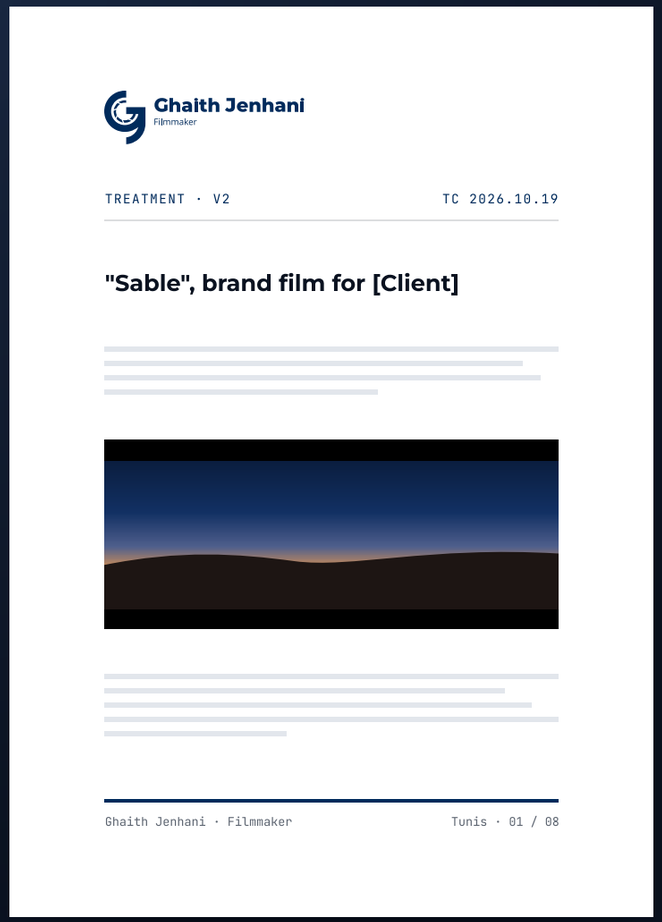

IMAGERY RULES

Text on footage needs a Night scrim at 0–85%. Never place copy over faces. One hero image per layout.

GRAPHIC ELEMENTS

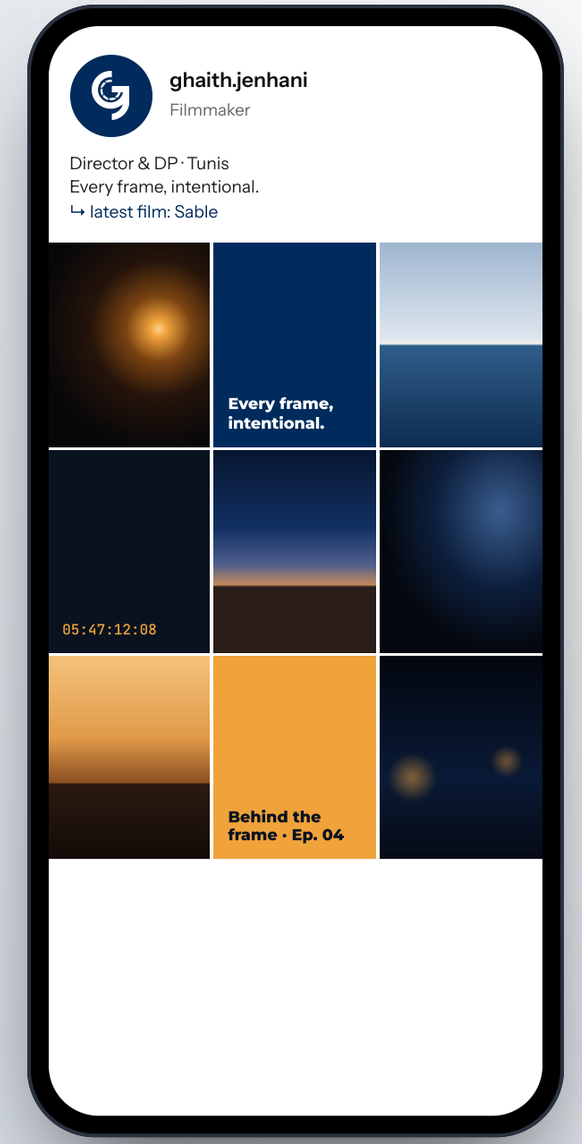

Frame corners at 1.5pt, in Silver Screen at 20–40% on dark. Timecode replaces page numbers. The aperture ring is decoration only.

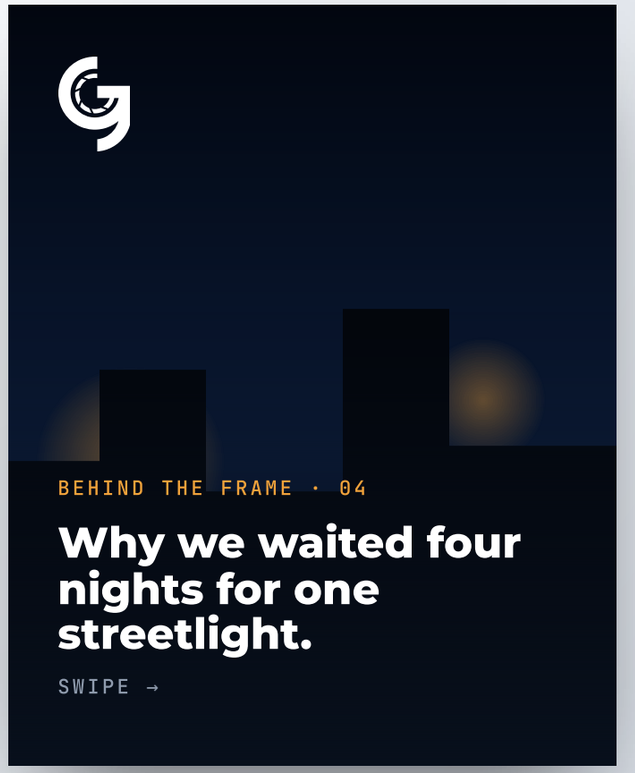

Business card 85 × 55 mm, Blue Hour front / Silver Screen back · A4 letterhead and treatment cover contact details are placeholders

Profile grid rhythm: two stills, one typographic tile.
Carousel cover 4:5 with Night scrim.

1080 × 1350

Ghaith Jenhani

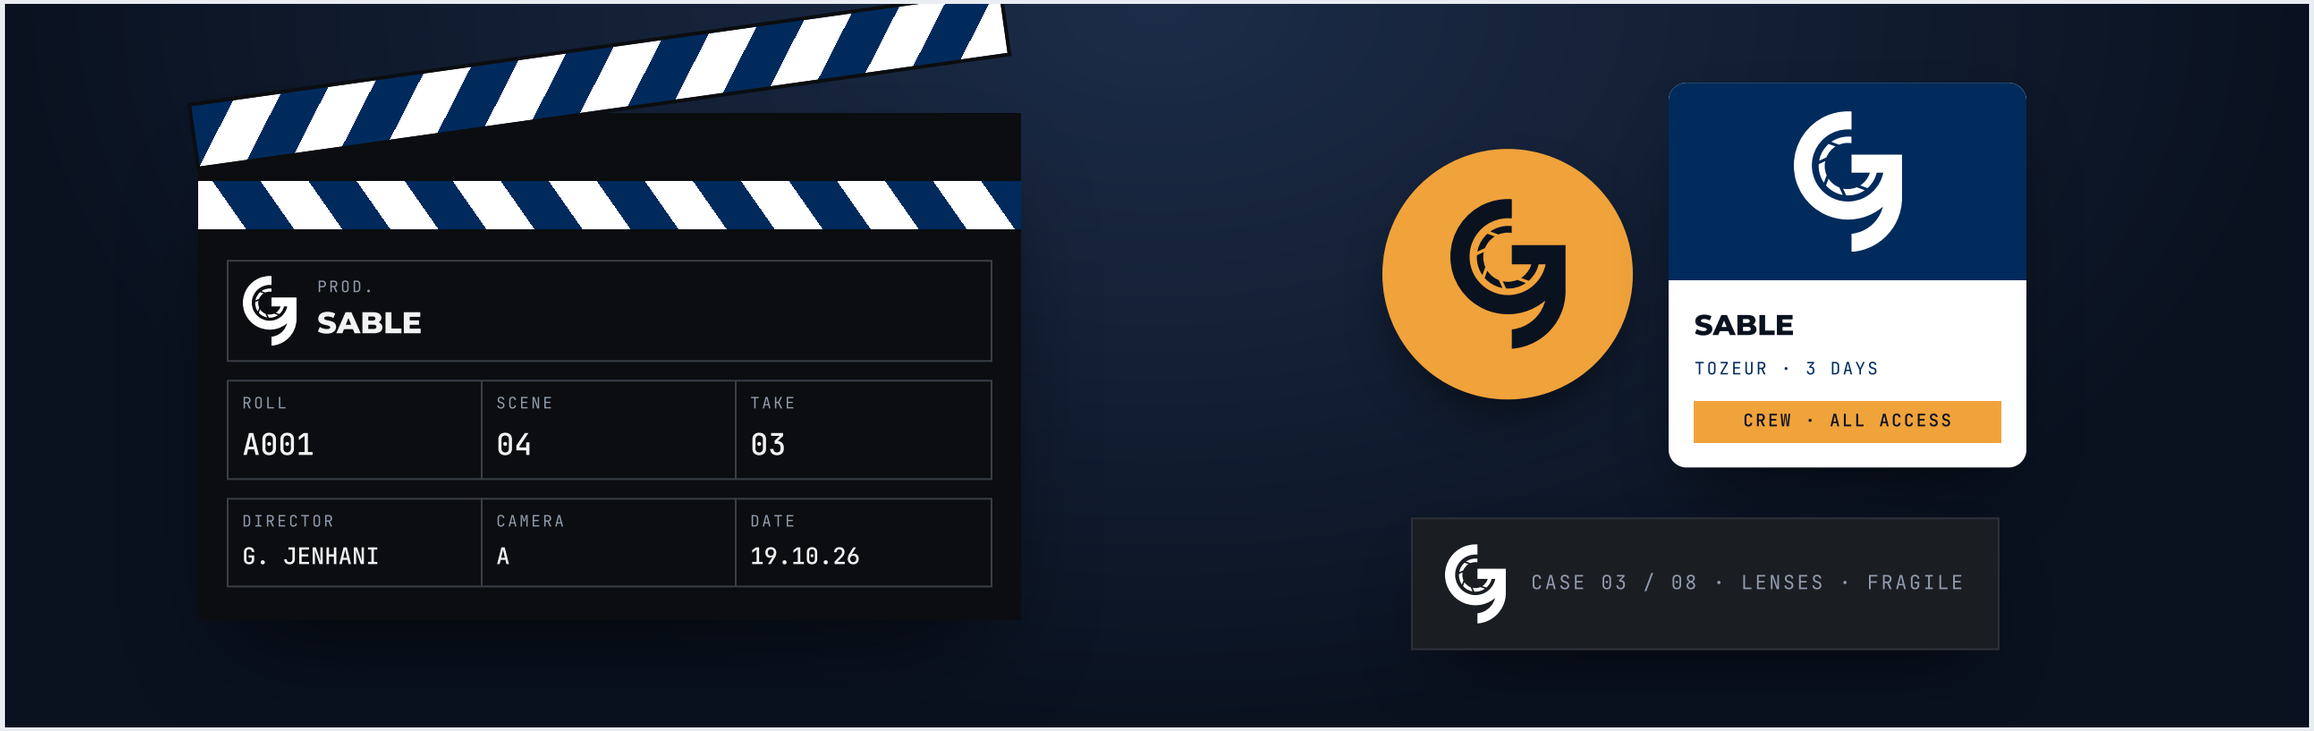

Filmmaker

EVERY FRAME, INTENTIONAL.

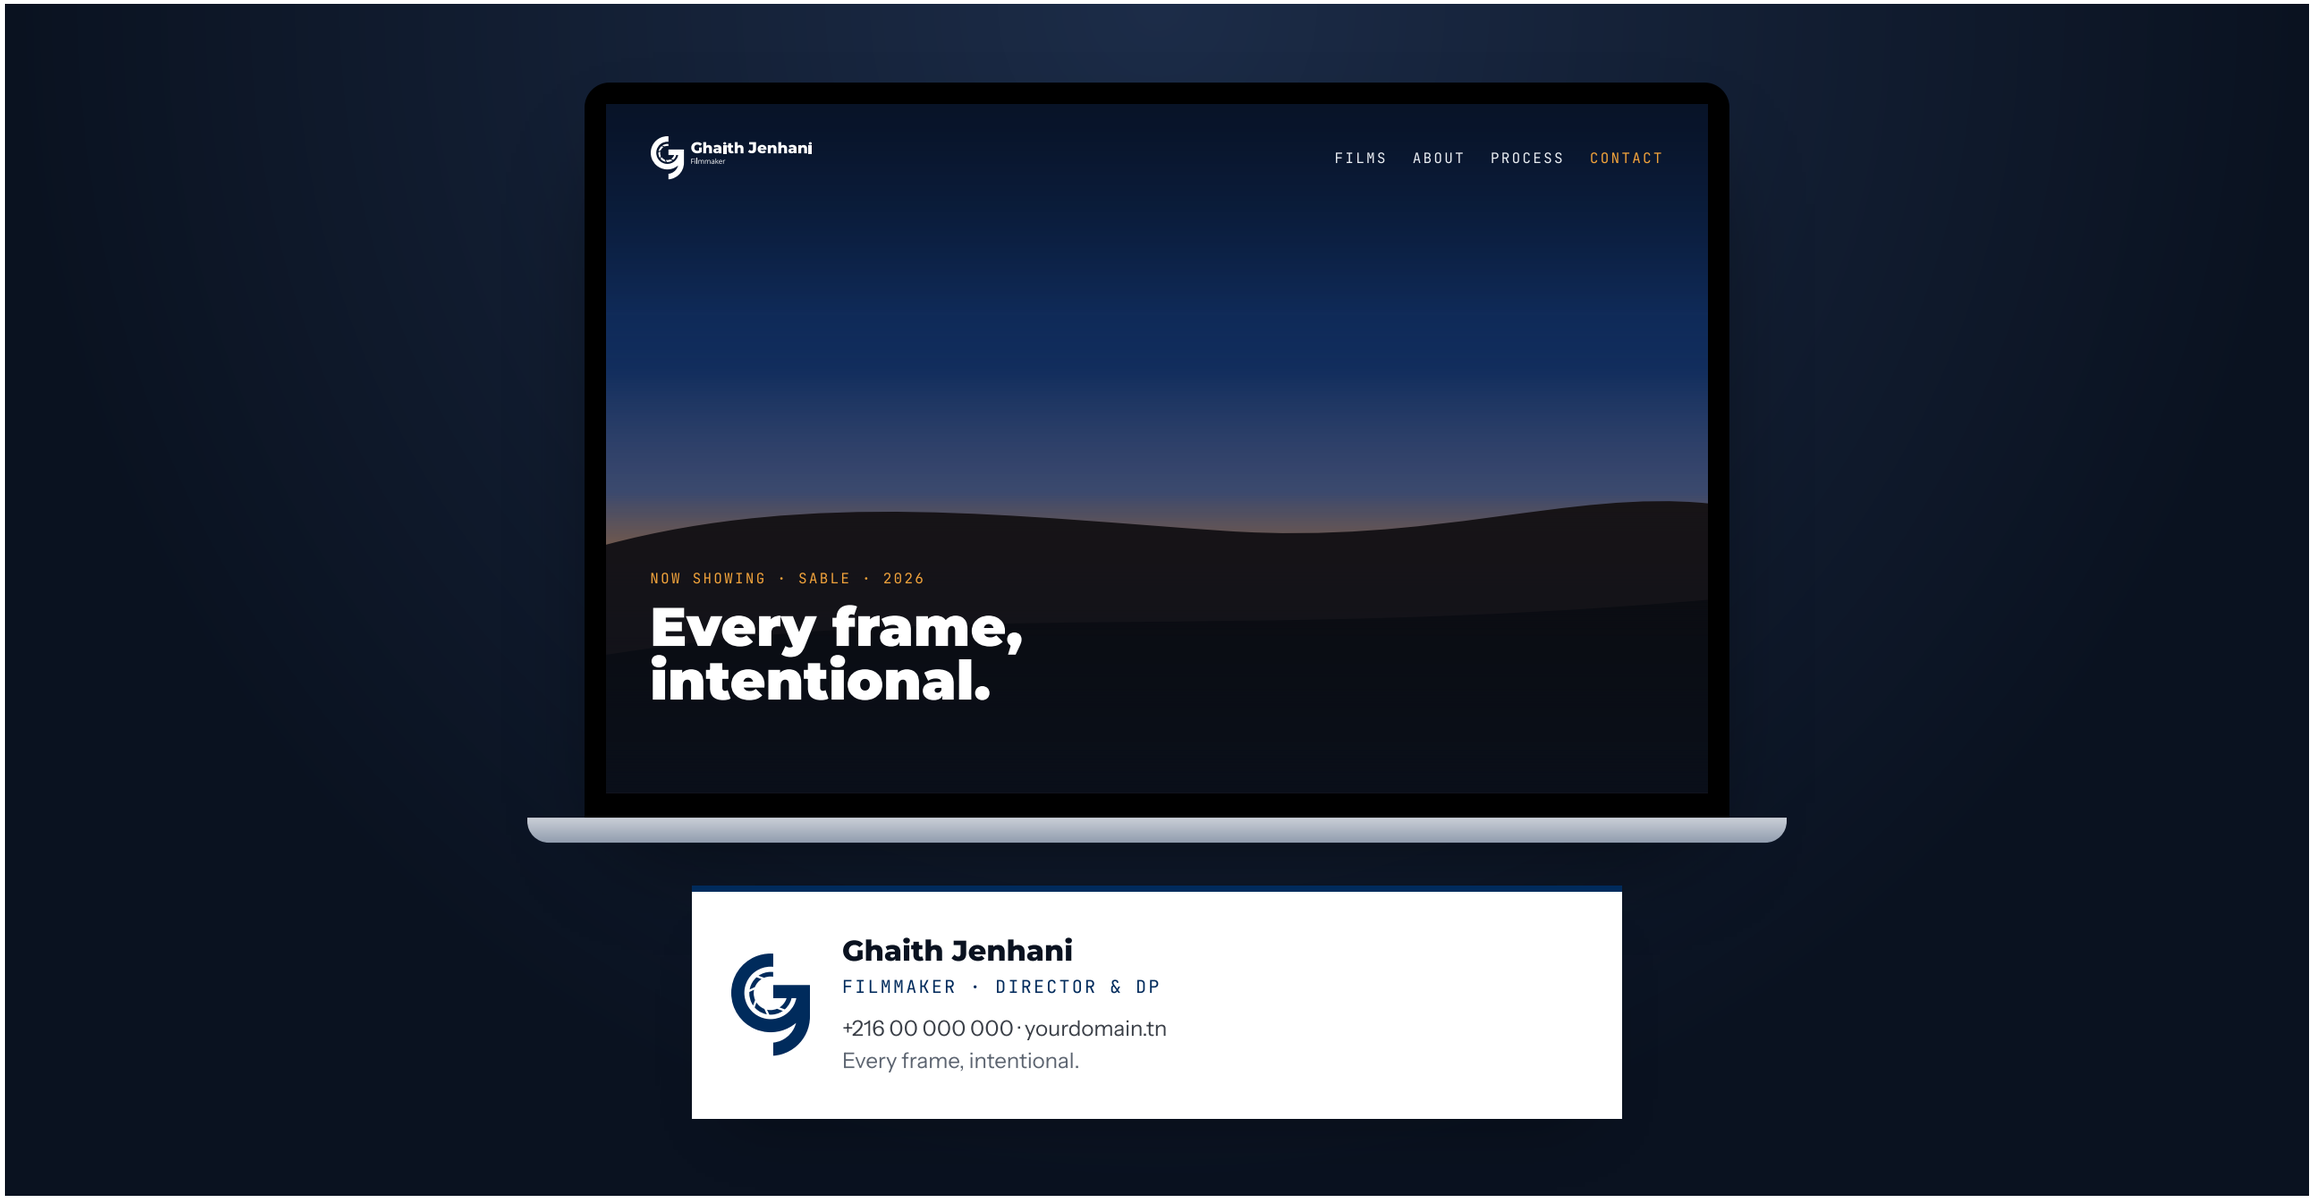

Thumbnail 1280 × 720 · interview frame with lower third and bug · end card · opening title

16:9 · 2.39:1

Clapperboard in brand stripes · gear sticker in Tungsten · crew pass · flight-case label production tools

Portfolio home with a full-bleed hero film · email signature

placeholders for domain & phone

CREW TEE · NIGHT

BACK PRINT · SILVER SCREEN

CAP · BLUE HOUR, TUNGSTEN MARK

TOTE · HARD DRIVE CARRIER

What's in the package

Everything lives in the `brand/` folder of the repository.

Brand strategy document	Market, audience, strategy and verbal identity as editable text	`strategy/brand-strategy.md`
Brand book (this document)	Visual identity system, guidelines and applications. Interactive web version and print PDF	`brandbook/index.html · Ghaith-Jenhani-Brandbook.pdf`
Logo masters · SVG	5 lockups (stacked, horizontal, symbol, wordmark, name) × 4 colours, plus 3 avatars	`logos/svg/gj-*.svg`
Logo exports · PNG	Transparent, 2400 px wide (avatars 1080 px)	`logos/png/gj-*.png`
Mockups · PNG	Each application spread exported at 2×	`mockups/*.png`
Colour & type tokens	CSS variables, JSON tokens and an Adobe swatch file (.ase)	`source/tokens/`
Original source	The 2025 Illustrator file, unchanged	`source/original/ghaith-jenhani-logo-2025.ai`